UM Coed Visits Castro-land To See For Herself

CHRISTMAS IN CUBA

There are always some people who have to "see for themselves.» Nini Goldberg, 23-year-old senior, is one of these people. While the rest of us spent a carefree Christmas vacation, the her brother (a Yale student) traveled down to controversial Cuba to see it in the eyes of the people. What follows are excerpts from a special interview with Miss Goldberg by Hurricane Editor Bertie Weiner.

Q. Do the Cubans consider their government Communist?
A. They don't consider themselves Communist and they don't want to be considered as such; they get very angry when people call them that. They are very proud of what they have accomplished and are accomplishing—and they're sincere.

Q. Is there any resistance to the Castro government? If so, when will he be overthrown?
A. The American Embassy itself admitted to an American student while we were down there that 10 per cent of the Cubans are pro-Castro. I doubt that he will be overthrown—out of our own effort is correct in the figures.

Q. Do the Cubans really expect the United States to invade them?
Q. Even if this is true, why didn't Castro pay these American University students anything for their help? He did it for the people.
A. I don't know; I don't understand it myself.

Q. Why are there so many refugees fleeing Cuba now if everything is so rosy?
A. These people were in support of these old American companies which exploited the people. They, too, owned much of the land, had most of the money, etc. So, when Castro started to redistribute the wealth and land, these persons naturally left the country. Why should they stay and see their position lowered?

Q. But these refugees say they fled because of Castro's "Communism."

A. Communism is very easy to scream. But the reasons lies in their support of the old-style economy of Cuba, an economy that suppressed the masses.

Q. Why is Castro so friendly with the USSE and with China even at the point of accepting their weapons?
A. We fail to realize that he is just as friendly with such allies as Canada and Belgium. I saw plenty of Belgian-made restaurants and bars here.

Q. Did you see the parade in honor of the 11-day victory of the revolution?
A. Yes, I saw it, but I don't want to look at tanks! (Continued on Page 4)

3 More Suspended By Honor Council

BY JACK GUARNIERI

Three more University College students found guilty of cheating on recent examinations have been suspended from the University.

One student was suspended for copying during a social sciences exam and two were suspended for possession of "crib" notes during a humanities exam. Suspensions are effective until the Spring term.

The convicted students will lose all college privileges.

In addition, seven students were put on indefinite probation. They are in possession of "crib" notes. Last month, two students were suspended and put on probation for "cribbing" on this same humanities exam.

So far this term, a total of 31 cases have been heard by the Honor Council. Of this number five have been suspended and eighteen put on probation. All 33 cases were involved with students found guilty of violating paragraph one of the Honor Code: "Dishonesty, all cheating, 'cribbing,' falsification, impersonation, plagiarism in any class or examination or any dishonest practice including the possession of a 'crib,' which will be considered prima facie evidence of 'cribbing,' shall be punishable by this code."

According to Bill Correll, Undergraduate Student Government attorney-general, "In most cases students appeared to be ignorant of the code and the consequences of violation."

Correll suggested strongly that the student body read over the Honor Code before next week's examinations.

A. They are nervous about it and prepared.
Q. We all know there isn't going to be any such invasion; why does Castro tell the people this?
A. I don't know.
Q. Why are the Cuban people so opposed to the United States government, and at the same time not at all unfriendly to Americans?
A. All the big American corporations and businesses in Cuba did nothing for the Cuban people, except to exploit them and their economy. And our government supported this exploitation. No wonder they don't like our government.

Q. Even if this is true, why didn't Castro pay these American University students anything for their help? He did it for the people.
Q. But these refugees say they fled because of Castro's "Communism."

A. Communism is very easy to scream. But the reasons lies in their support of the old-style economy of Cuba, an economy that suppressed the masses.

Dormitory Damage Spurs Crack-down

The UM Housing Office has started cracking down on damage to residence halls, ordering that all damage must be paid by the students themselves.

In a memorandum issued to residence halls, Housing Manager Henry Sklar, director of Student Housing, said that any item will be posted next month listing charges for all property damage to the dormitories.

"We feel that the students will exercise more care and respect for the housing if they know how much it is going to rest them otherwise," Sklar explained.

The full cost of any damaged item belonging to the University will be charged against the individual student responsible, or pre-registered against the occupants of the apartment," the housing director said.

IN THE PAST the Housing Office has used money from its general maintenance fund for most repairs.

"We have had more or less an honor system," Sklar explained, "and we try to work through the advisors to help control damage."

The advisors, undergraduate students, are charged with the responsibility of all things that come up in their buildings.

"THIS IS ONE of the few universities that has apartment-type residence halls," said Harry Meigs, manager of housing. "With this particular type of housing, there is more property in each unit which can be damaged."

"Our biggest damage problem is with doors and windows. Each window pane costs us $1 and the doors run from $15 to $35. So far this semester, about 200 doors have been damaged."

Trustees as to whether a racially-restrictive policy does exist here. Ms. Sudkowska, Engineering School representative, fought against the motion saying that all facts should be presented before any action is taken.

"IT IS necessary to present the policy of the University with respect to race in those places before any intelligent poll can be taken," Sudkowska said.

USG President Kay Nabors said that the Board of Trustees was asked to explain the position and the reasons for it.

She said there was no reason why student opinions should not be sought, "if the matter is handled correctly.

A. such a referendum is as much as we can do to show the University what the general climate of opinion is in a private institution, we have the right to have it work out such problems as this.

"Even if the Board takes no action, we have had the student and faculty reaction."

One council member, arguing for immediate acceptance of the proposal, stressed the importance of student opinion at a private institution.

"We attend an institution which is run by the Board of Trustees, but this helps support the (Continued on Page 4)

UM Research Bureau Gets the Ax
By GARY DAVIES

The Bureau of Business and Economic Research will no longer be a part of the UM. The axing of the bureau, effective June 1, was recommended by the Budget Committee, headed by Executive Vice President Dr. Robert Johns, and approved by the Executive Board.

Dr. Johns said, "This is part of an effort to restructure the research department of the Business School." He also stated that the bureau has not proved an economic return to the view point of research, instructors or students.

Dr. Reinhold Wolff, who has been head of the bureau since it was begun ten years ago, first learned that his bureau was being abandoned when he opened his morning mail Dec. 21 and found a letter from President Jay F. W. Pearson notifying him of the fact.

The bureau is now operating on a $100,000 annual budget, of which $17,000 comes from the University. The remaining expenses are supplied from fees and grants that come to the bureau. When possible the $17,000 is also repaid when fees and donations, which are granted to the University rather than to the bureau, are enough to do so.

Dr. Wolff told the Hurricane this week that he did not think the bureau was a drain on the University, and that, in fact, he thought it offered positive benefits to the University in many ways.

He said that the bureau currently has six promising research projects, one of which will run for more than $5,000 each. He also said that the bureau attracts funds to the University and adds to the prestige of UM.

Final Exam Schedule - 1960-1961

Examinations will take place in the rooms in which the individual classes have been meeting. If a student finds a conflict in his exam schedule, he should consult with the instructors whose courses are in conflict. The schedule is to be used as a guide only; except group examinations or conflicts.

The Final Examination Schedule for Evening Division classes (those after 4:30 p.m.) will be announced by the Evening Division.

Early examinations are not permitted. Examinations are to be given at the times indicated. Examination schedules may not be modified without the consent of the Academic Dean in whose school the course originates.

Jackson Hospital
To Swing To UM?

By MARY CLARK

What would it mean to the University if Dade County turned over Jackson Memorial Hospital to the UM Medical School, as has been proposed by one high Dade official?

"We can't know what it will really mean until it is definite. That could be years," said Mrs. Lillian A. Glickman, director of UM's Medical News Bureau.

In a proposal made by Metro Hospital Advisory Board member L. L. Brooks, the School would get the hospital for a $1-a-year lease. The hospital now is worth the county $5 million annually.

At present, the Medical School has charge of all the charity patients at the county hospital. The University, under the contact with the county, uses Jackson as a teaching situation.

Under University control, the hospital would be made eligible for grant and private endowment, Brooks pointed out, that are not now available to county institutions.

In an eight-to-one vote, the Board decided to look into the possibility of letting UM run the hospital, and scheduled another hearing.

From Dr. Kermit Gates, Metey's Hospital Director.

Avoid The Rush—Register Now

University College students who wish to pre-register are advised to apply their IBM cards and registration information in Merrowe's International Center.

University College students who wish to pre-register for Fall 1961 must do so by 11 a.m., Sept. 21st, the last day to register by meeting with their respective major advisors.

Panhellenic 'Adopts' Two

Two girls, one a Greek and the other a Korean, have been "adopted" by UM's Panhellenic Council.

The Council will give $15 a month for the support of each girl, acting through the Foster Parents' Plan.

Sophia Simantoura, 14, left, lives with her widowed mother in Elason, Greece. Soo Young Bae, right, came from Pusan, Korea, with her mother and six other children. She is 17.

Wilson Competition On Campus;
12 UM Students in Semi-Finals

Eleven UM semi-finalists in the southeastern regional competition for the coveted Woodrow Wilson Fellowships will be interviewed on campus Sunday by that selection committee.

Because of the large number of candidates from the Universi-ity, the selection committee this year decided to come to the UM campus for the first time.

In previous years, candidates from Miami have had to journey to Gainesville to be interviewed by the committee.

Names of the 11 seniors up for the graduate awards will be released at this time by Dr. John L. McCollum, Jr. associate dean of the University College and a member of that Wilson regional board.

Of eight semi-finalists interviewed last year from a field of 19, six UM seniors were awarded the fellowships, which encourage graduating seniors to consider teaching as a career.

This year, there are 32 students in the southeastern region to be interviewed. The region consists of Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, Florida and Puerto Rico.

Our Band Will Tour

Some 80 members of the UM Band will head for New York on Jan. 27 for an annual concert tour in Key West. They will return to play in the University first semester commencement ceremonies.

After graduation, the band will head for several cities in Florida, playing at high school assemblies in addition to concerts in the logal communities.

wanted to talk to the people. But they didn’t stop us—opened at the parade. Watching through the open door, they were probably prison were quite a number of "counter-revolutionary" prisoners. Which kind of these people were allowed to watch the parade, I was told, "Why shouldn’t they watch—they’re Cubans, too."

Q. How freely were you allowed to ask questions and inspect things?
A: I had complete freedom; I could ask anyone anything and go anywhere I wanted. I visited four provinces while I was there, talking to people.

Q. What is the state of civil rights in Cuba?
A: A Cuban can say whatever he wants. But if they don’t agree, they can be exiled; but if they kill someone, they are considered insane. It is a senseless bumbling by the counter-revolutionist—that gets the Cubans angry. During the parade, counter-revolutionary leaflets came floating down from a high building. The Cuban just laughed at the classes and let them fall.

Q. Why is the Catholic Church in Cuba anti-Castro?
A: Well, for one thing, the Church has owned a lot of land which they took away from them to give to the people. Secondly, the government is building many schools which the Church feels are in competition with their own. Another reason, the Church weddings is no longer recognized by the government as the legal wedding: a judge or notary in the legal ceremony. So, they attack Castro as a threat to their system, and naturally, he fights back.

Q. What would you call the economic and governmental system by which Castro operates?
A: Well, judging by the large-scale nationalization in their economic structure, I’d say it was socialist—more so than European socialism.

Q. Is there a common attempts by the Castro government to "level" the class structure?
A: There is a very defiitive class structure in Cuba. However, I believe that in the future, Castro will attempt to make Cuba less class-based than the "educational system."

Q. Who was your general impression of Cuba from your trip, what strikes one most in your mind?
A: I think what I’ve been interested in is educationally and educationally for the people to treume, the rural, low-cost good housing, jobs, education. Everywhere I went, the Cubans pointed to their eyes and told "Look," I looked, and what I saw is most fantastic. The government is trying to do the best for the people of Cuba in the fastest way possible.

Q. Is this the best way possible, though?
A: I am not sure. I want to go back in a year or two to see what’s happened. I’m not sure that the idea of all that new power concentration in one man is such a good idea.

Q. Is there a chance that Castro will hold elections soon?
A: I don’t think so. Besides, what would it prove if he’s not elected by a landslide.

Q. Do the Cubans think of Frances, Cuban relations will get better?
A: A few kind words from President Kennedy, but they’re not too hopeful. They believe of them, were expecting our diplomatic break.

Q. What should we look for in Cuba during the next year?
A: The first year of the revolution was their "Year of Freedom." The second was their "Year of Agriculture." This year is devoted to education. They hope to have everyone able to read and write by the end of 1963; they are using 35,000 high school students and graduates to teach those still illiterate.

Q. Isn’t that a bit dangerous for a dictator in do-giving the people the opportunity to read and write?
A: Cuba doesn’t seem likely, said several of the council members, that a referendum would be held something at the beginning of next semester.

The results of the proposed student-faculty bulletin would be forwarded to the Board for its consideration.

The Council emphasized that it is in no way taking a stand for or against the University’s admission policies, at this time.

The referendum motion asked that "Undergraduate Student Government hold a campus-wide referendum, giving both faculty members and students the opportunity to voice their opinions concerning admission results in the University of Miami, in order that the Administration and Board of Trustees won’t be able to insist on any action, the following statement was released to the Hurrican of UM’s Wesley Heyer.

"Our church has taught, and we believe, that in Jesus Christ all men are brothers. The Church, as the body of Christ, knows no racial, economic, or social discriminations, for all are one in him. We support fully the statement by the Methodist Council of Bishops which declared in 1932, and in 1956, and now has reaffirmed.

"To discriminate against a person solely on the basis of his race is both unfair and unchristian..."

Said Kurland: "We will be reorganizing the entire structure of MRHA, to make it better serve its purpose. Instead of being one large organization serving 2,400 on-campus men residents, we will divide up into dorm units where the men can elect their own officers and serve their respective areas. By BERNIE WEINER

Hurricane Editor

Well, it's late Wednesday night and the paper will begin to go to press in an hour. Time for my last column.

The answer: It isn't necessary to thank everyone. They know from working with you what you think of them. And it isn't necessary to glamorize the job of editor in a last goodbye. Because, with that job of status and position comes the mud. Good-awful load of work and responsibility one could ever wish on a potential enemy.

No, cut the sentimental rubbish. No one believes you, anyway...it's unnecessary.

Instead, get down to print (while you still can) some things that you just haven't had space to say during the year.

A NEW OPEN LETTER TO UM President Jay F. W. Pearson:

Several times, Dr. Robert J. Beilenson, as the president of this institution has the greatest potential of any private university in the land. Our own students and faculty speak up daily against such practices. So does the community. So does the government.

But unrealistic potential is the greatest sin of the human animal.

"We, sir, can do much to make the University of Miami a true, vital, dynamic center of intellectual thought only if we really want to."

"In order to do this, we must assume the posture of a serious, self-critical institution. We can do this in many ways; some suggestions would be:

- To tighten the academic admission standards, in order to keep out those students who come here only to gain information—not knowledge.

- To divest ourselves of such inane admission restrictions as that of "race.

The intelligent mind can see the effects of such foolish restrictions. And that same mind can see the inevitable crumbling tradition of the past."

Our own students and faculty speak up daily against such practices. So does the community. So does the government. And we must be responsible to all these people.

"And that's the educational ideal we all work for; that which this institution has the greatest potential of any private university in the land."

THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are well educated and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Mr. Jim Rimbaud, who graduated at the top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machine-wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $30 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

I know what you are thinking: "Chokess le voscuu! You are thinking that Mr. Arne, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

First, you are wrong to think that Mr. Arne does have a daughter, a large, torpid lez-named Claudia who spends all her waking hours leaping maripous out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in seven years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Claudia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North."

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he is able to settle back, make himself comfortable and enjoy the filter cigarette with the un-filtered taste?

Marine Lab Receives Grant

By JOHN MALLICK

The UM Marine Lab has received a grant of $251,061 to finance a five-year program of post-doctoral fellowships for biologists working to make experimental studies of marine life.

The money comes from the National Heart Institutes of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and will provide research facilities for scientists whose training and experience have been in medical and other branches of biology rather than marine.

Dr. F. G. Walsh Smith, director of the laboratory, said: "The investigation of marine animals has contributed considerably to sciences basic to medical knowledge, such as embryology and biochemistry."

The program will be under the supervision of Dr. Charles E. Lane of the Marine Lab, aided by Dr. George Lewis and Dr. Gordon Ring of the School of Medicine.

"The program will broaden the field of knowledge of biologists who have received their training in inland institutions," Dr. Lane said.

Prof Will Talk Cents

Dr. W. G. Henyon, UM professor of finance, will address delegates to the three-day senior executive conference of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, opening Jan. 23 at Southern Methodist University.

Leo's Shows Student Paintings

By STANLEY TUPLER
Hurricane Art Writer

At Leo's Village Corner Gallery, across from the UM on 12th and 6th, Dick Holman and Barbara Tarr, graduating seniors and members of Kappa Pi—national art honorary society—previewed their two-man show before a packed house of artists and patrons.

Dick Holman, whose style has recently undergone a complete change, produced a painting, "Flower Vendor," which is perhaps one of the best paintings in Miami today. Using a brilliant, but balanced palette, and long, sure strokes, he brings both color and composition into almost absolute harmony.

Generally, he still seems to be gaining control of his new style, but this particular picture, "Flower Vendor," is as good as any in the entire modern school of art today.

BARBARA TARR's pictures, for the most part, maintain a rather high and constant series of qualities. Her figures and objects seem to play in and out among the shadows and leave a bubbling white foam on the surface of the canvas.

Her "Still Life #4" is modestly subdued, yet still sparkles in a sad way. One of her best is "Bicycles." The quiet colors merge smoothly as if reflected from dark colored mirrors and the strange bicycle gives the appearance of silently gliding into the shadows.

For the quality of these paintings, the prices seem unreasonably low.

Shirley Green, currently holding a one-man show at the Granville Galleries through January, will conduct a 10-week course for beginning and advanced art students.

Elliott O'Hara, probably one of the greatest water colorists in the world today, will lecture and present several of his award-winning films at a special (admission-free) presentation at 8 p.m. Monday, at the Lowe Art Gallery.

A clothesline exhibition at the Elks Lodge, 60 Brickell Ave, will take place Sunday. All artists are invited to participate. The medium is open. The entrance fee is $1.00.

Faces From Peru

A selection of Peruvian textiles from one of the leading private collections of pre-Columbian art in the U.S. will be featured in a new show opening today at the Joe and Emily Lowe Art Gallery.

The exhibition entitled "Ancient Peruvian Art—The John C. Wise Collection" will include some 60 works selected by Gallery Director C. Clay Aldridge.

Displayed in another section of the Gallery will be a smaller exhibition, "The Human Figure in Oriental Art," with works representing various treatments of the human form in different media.

The fabrics of ancient Peru, created with simple equipment which was not improved with the coming of the Spaniards, rival the finest of modern textiles.

‘Spartacus’--One Large Spectacle

By: ROBERT SIMON
Hollywood News Critic

"Spartacus," at Wometoe’s 163rd St. Theater, is a well-told tale of a slave revolt against Rome, full of furious extras symbolizing nothing.+ As required for all spectaculars, the movie lasts far too long, but the photography is generally impressive and the unaided ham acting of Laughlin, Uss, and Olivier is fun to watch.

All Director Stanley Kubrick’s skill is wasted on Dalton Trumbo’s vague and muddled script. In almost four hours of screen time, no one character—a villainous Roman general—is developed with any subtlety.

THE SCRIPT, costuming and Kirk Douglas make Spartacus a fierce New Deal Democrat in skivvies who speaks Brotherhood Day homilies when not distracted by the Roman Legions or Jean Simmons.

His lieutenants in the slave army are interchangably stalwart, dull and eventually crucified. This ending is supposed to be an affirmation of the desire for freedom but it’s difficult to care about the death of characters we’ve seen alive.

“ar World of Susan Wong,” at the Flamingo Theatre on the Beach, is a delightful Hong Kong whodone, staf- first French films seen in Miami were disappointing. I found "The Lovers" and "The Cousins" unbelievable and dull. "Black Orphans" had some beautiful sequences and wonder- defully-erotic music, but it overdid a retelling of the Orphée legend that was more clever than significant.

The 400 Blows" redeemed the others. Louis, compassion- ate, and almost perfect in presenting content visually, it was the finest film of the year. We may get a chance to view "Hiroshima, Mon Amour" when it’s shown sometime within the next century. Have faith.

THE MAJOR American films were "Kinsey's Gangster" and "Inherit The Wind" were above average, but outshone by the critic. Bert Stern’s "Jazz on a Summer’s Day" was a visual and aural delight. "The Savage Eye," not yet seen in Miami, was a depressingly-hum- est study of urban loneliness.

Perhaps low budget films like these will bring back blemish and beauty into American films during 61.

FILMS NOT REVIEWED
MIRACLE: "Can-Can" W. Buhler’s idea of wicked, gay Paree, now at low prices. Frankie, Shirley MacLaine and Maurice Chevalier.
CORAL: "Swiss Family Robinson." The other-directed man’s answer to Robinson Crusoe, with John Mills, Dorothy Ma- guire, pirates and assorted ani- mals.
GABLES: "The Wackiest Ship in the Army." A military farce with Jack Lemmon, a fine com-edy actor, and Ricky Nelson, who has yet to be classified.

TRAIL: "Ben Hur." It’s a bright new year and I intend to forget the horrors of the past.

SUNSET: "Carry On, Nurse." A funny, funny British comedy. But for five weeks!!

Pinocchio At Box

Remember "Pinocchio," the puppet who wanted to be human? Whose nose grew three feet and who sprouted donkey ears and a donkey tail?

If you've forgotten the story by this time, here's an opportunity to refresh your memory.

The UM Drama Guild will present an adaptation of the fairy tale this weekend in their Children's Theater production at the North Campus Box Theatre.

Joan Kivitt, UM drama senior who is specializing in children's theater has adapted the play from the book. Kivitt is directing the production, as well as playing the role of Geppetto (that's the old woodcarver).

THIS PRODUCTION will feature music for the youngsters and a style of presentation in which the audience participates in the action. Special effects will be featured: Pinocchio's nose, tail, and ears all grow; and there is a talking cat and fox.

Peter Deliz plays Pinocchio, and Peggy Gibble takes the part of Mistress Cherry. Starlight, Starclue, and Starwinkly are played by Penny Press, Mary Fisher, and Maxine Brown respectively.

Villain Monstra, the evil puppeteer, is played by Carole Minkin, and the Fox and Cat are played by Nancy Williams and Lynda Kaplan.

Four performances will be given: at 4 p.m. today, tomorrow at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents for everybody.

ZBT's Rosenblatt Tops All-Campus Quintet

Pete Rosenblatt of Zeta Beta Tau was an unanimous choice to the All-Campus basketball squad. Champion ZBT and runnerup Lambda Chi Alpha dominated the poll with three and two men respectively in the first two squads.

"The individuals were selected on ability, sportsmanship and accomplishment," according to Marc Sokolik, chairman of the All-Campus committee. Also on the committee were Al Zara, John Nolan and Chink Whitten, director of recreation.

FIRST TEAM

FORWARD, DICK KURTZ of Zeta Beta Tau. This talented Zeeb scored a hundred points during the season and was a tough man on the boards. He scored 29 points in playoff competition.

FORWARD, KEN DARAS of Lambda Chi Alpha. Sharp-shooting Daras poured 130 points through the hoops, an average of 14 points per game.

CENTER, HARVEY KARSEVAN of Alpha Epsilon Pi. Karsevan was the all-purpose star for AEPi, with his beautiful play-making, scoring and rebounding. The center exploited his one-hand jump shot for a 14-point game average.

GUARD, PETE ROSENNBALT of Zeta Beta Tau. A "take charge" guy, Rosenblatt's outstanding shooting and playmaking sparkplugged ZBT to the intramural championship. He totaled 120 points, for the 15-point average.

GUARD, JIM DANBY of Sigma Chi. This sharp shooter paced all IM scorers with 158 points. His 33 points in the playoffs were mainly responsible for Sigma Chi's third place finish.

SECOND TEAM

FORWARD, MURRAY STOCKFEDER of Tau Epsilon Phi. TEP's versatile athlete adds basketball to his growing collection of honors. He was recently named to All-Campus football first team. Stockfeder averaged 12.6 points in a tough league.

FORWARD, LARRY HEFFER of Pi Kappa Alpha. Hustling Heffer averaged 20 points per game. His 141 points clinched runner-up scoring honors.

CENTER, MIKE SIDROW of Zeta Beta Tau. Big Mike, 6'6", was a terror under the boards, averaging over 15 rebounds a game. He scored 60 points in five games—a respectable 12-point average.

GUARD, VAN PARBINS of Sigma Nu. The classy ball handler and deadly shot was the Snakes' top man, as he consistently hit for 20-point games.

GUARD, CHARLIE YANDA of Lambda Chi Alpha. "Heads up ball player" best describes flashy Mr. Yanda, his passes coming from over, under and behind the befuddled opposition.

Mural Cinder Finals Today

Intramural track finals will be held 3-30 Monday afternoon, on UM's cinder field. The finals for the broad jump, shot put, 100, 220, 440, 880-yard run and 880 relay events will be run off there.

Alpha Epsilon Pi, Hot Corners and Sigma Alpha Epsilon jumped early leads from Tuesday's preliminaries. The semi-finals were slated for yesterday afternoon.

Grabbing the individual spotlight was Hot Corners' Harvey Grossman's 10.4 in the preliminaries' 100-yard dash. The IM record is 10.2.

Jim Hildebrandt of Sigma Chi nipped Meyer Wollman of Pi Lambda Chi with a six-foot leap in the high jump in Tuesday's only finals event.

Last year's high jump winner, Ted Copper won a track scholarship after jumping 6'7 1/4”—Rain prevented Hildebrandt from trying to better his six-foot leap. The dash Grossman is currently trying out for the freshman cinder squad.

Dr. John M. Keeler, director of intramurals, requests that participants be at the track well in advance of the scheduled time.

Entries for volleyball are due the first Thursday of the second semester.

Whitten Praises Trio

"There were quite a few refer- ents of good caliber," Chink Whitten, director of recreation, said of the men who are constantly the undeserving subjects of participants' fits of temper.

"The three most competent would have to be Dick Norman, Larry Di Giannuario and Steve McDonald."

Pocket billiards entries are due February 16, while wrestling weigh-ins February 16 and 17.

The BTCG tournament opens the second semester with volleyball.

Girls' Program

'Gets A Break'

Due to final exams, there will be no basketball games this coming week. Basketball will resume February 7 for the independent teams and February 9 for the universities.

The intramural free throw contest is slated for Tuesday or Thursday at 11:30 p.m., next semester. The domino free throw contest will be Monday through Thursday at 8:30 in the dome area.

All interested are welcome to enter.

BUT PIKES CLOSING IN

Lamb Chi Still Heads President's Cup Race

With only track remaining this semester, Lambda Chi Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha are making a runaway of the President's Cup race. Lambda Chi currently owns a minute 20-point margin.

Third place Sigma Nu is a distant 191 points behind. Defending Cup champ Tau Epsilon Phi is a no better than fifth. All indications are that the two-way race will go all the way. Lambda Chi has been a phenomenon second semester, while Pike aims to be the first organization to retire the coveted Cup.

1. Lambda Chi Alpha 880
2. Pi Kappa Alpha 780

Cinder Warmup Starts

Track enters the University of Miami athletic picture Tuesday when some 20 varsity Cinderella along with 10 freshmen begin training for the spring grind.

On Coach Bob Downes’ lineup of opponents are such newsmen as Air Force and Massachusetts. Also scheduled to appear on the Coral Gables track are Yale, Purdue, Brown and neighboring Florida opponents.

“IT'S A SCHEDULE much like last year,” opined Downes who's got 9 lettermen back. “Tough for my boys but of the caliber that gives them incentive.

“But while we're stronger in some respects this year—we only lost one letterman to graduation—we've lost several good boys because of scholastic difficulties.”

Downes added that another stalwart, hurdler Roy Pugh, left school for unknown reasons.

“The day he walked in my office and told me that he was quitting school, I was completely taken by surprise.”

Robert Downes “Tough For My Boys”

Pugh’s hiatus leaves Downes without an experienced timber-straddler though prospects George Silver and Jack Press are beginning to come around.”

BRIGHTENING the picture however in the return of sprint ace Bobby Sher, UM's sole entrant in the 1960 Olympics trials. Sher holds the UM 100-yard-dash mark of 9.5 seconds.

Of interest to fans is the relaxation of the high jump pit. “It’s been moved closer to the stands to give a much improved view,” said Downes.

Basketball Brothers Find A Home At Miami

By BARBARA McALPINE

For the first time in ten years UM has a brother duo on the same team. Carl and Chris Stavrati are playing basketball together.

Carl, now a junior, graduated from Fort Wayne, Indiana high school, the only senior on a near champion team ranked seventh in the nation.

After a year of "just not liking Michigan," Chris transferred to Miami as a sophomore.

"He played some real fine games that year," commented Head Basketball Coach Bruce Hink. "He won several for us."

"(Skogstad) might get a cut, but it's going to take a lot of hustle. You don't send a retired general to lead a war," the coach added.

Skogstad, a Coral Gables High School product, is currently rated fifth on the squad by Lewis.

At home of the "cleanup" game behind Karlare and Roger McCormick, Bob Bossong and sophomore Hugh Quay. John Kolver is Lewis' sixth swinner. Five of the squad, including some freshmen, are playing in the Florida State Open in Orlando which lasts through this week. The entire squad, according to Lewis, will enter the City of Miami Championships at Henderson Park Monday. Play will continue through Saturday.

Exams? Not Netters

Sophomore John Karas, son of a University of Miami economics professor, has displaced John Skogstad for the number one spot on the school's tennis squad. "Karas has earned it in our round-robin tournament," noted Hurricane net coach Dale Lewis.

"(Skogstad) might get a cut, but it's going to take a lot of hustle. You don't send a retired general to lead a war," the coach added.

Skogstad, a Coral Gables High School product, is currently rated fifth on the squad by Lewis. Ahead of the former "cleanup" game behind Karlare and Roger McCormick, Bob Bossong and sophomore Hugh Quay. John Kolver is Lewis' sixth swinner. Five of the squad, including some freshmen, are playing in the Florida State Open in Orlando which lasts through this week. The entire squad, according to Lewis, will enter the City of Miami Championships at Henderson Park Monday. Play will continue through Saturday.

"And they're too formal... men always wear suits to class and carry brief cases."

So Carl joined Chris for this year's season. The result? Confusion for fans in general and scorekeepers in particular. But the Stavratis are happy.

The often cutthroat competition between brothers doesn't bother them. "I'm glad Carl transferred," Chris concluded.

A young lawyer may spend many years searching through the countless volumes in a law library before he ever gets a chance to plead a case. His job is to research the cases which may provide legal precedent. It's a very necessary but tedious task.

Recently it was demonstrated that an IBM computer could accomplish electronic retrieval of statutory law. Nearly 20,000 statutes pertaining to a specific area of the law were stored in the computer's memory. In response to inquiries, the computer searched its memory at electronic speed and on instructions pointed out either citations or the full text of relevant statutes. This was accomplished in 1957. It might have taken a young lawyer the entire day.

Putting computers to work in unusual ways is not new at IBM. Computers are now doing remarkable jobs in interesting and important areas of business, industry, science and government.

If you are interested in a company that offers you an exciting career with virtually unlimited advancement possibilities, then you should investigate IBM. Positions are open in research, development, programming and manufacturing.

Jax, FSU Beat Death Valley Drums

By ALLAN H. BELL

First place in the Florida Intercollegiate Conference is at stake tonight in Jacksonville when Miami's hoopsters battle the upset Dolphins.

The joust is second in a three-game ride through the state's "Death Valley," that is concluded tomorrow night against Florida State, in Tallahassee.

During the ensuing three weeks, UM head coach Bruce Hale predicts a "game that's bound to be tough."

"Both squads claim 2-0 records in conference play."

Turning to the annual FSU affair, Hale expects his chief backfield to victory will be center Dave Fisher.

"They said he'd give us trouble last year, and he did," said Hale of the gangling Fedor, a native of Stuttgart, Germany—43 points worth.

Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminoles bring a 5-6 record into Saturday night's council meeting, including a win over the University of Kentucky, at Lexington.

NEXT SATURDAY—to break the monotony of final exams—the Hurricanes open a four-game home series against Houston.

One of four teams to defeat Miami last season, the Cougars return with virtually the same starting unit.

Tonight, Miami meets St. Louis at Houston.

Pacing the scarlet and white this year as last, is All Missouri Valley Conference Guard Gary Phillips.

Paired with Phillips is 6-6 center Ted Luckenbill. "He's the one that only got 19 points against us last winter," remembers UM's Hale. "With his arm in a cast."

THE FOLLOWING THURSDAY, the Gentlemen of Centenary (La.) let the hair down for a renewal of their cage series with UM.

The long-awaited UM-Louisville contest is slated for January 30.

"They've got a lot of speed and a lot of big men who can shoot," Hale said. "And they've got much the same team I saw in the NCAA playoffs last spring."

Miami's Got Road Virus Again

By ALLAN H. BELL

Miami's road woes continue, for tonight the Hurricanes are 6-6 in the Big East and a costly 6-6 at home. The squad is a mile out of first place and in the midst of a three-game losing streak. The team is 8-7 this year, the lowest of any team in the city.

A two-point half-time lead failed to hold up as Miami staged a 29-83-73 victory over Miami Wednesday night in the annual intrastate affair.

The game was played at the University of Miami gymnasium.

A UNDERSIZE Gator crew deadlocked the contest at 45 after 14 minutes remaining. The lead was never lost. Big Leo Merchant and Cliff Loyd scored scoring honors for Florida, threading a 13 and 14 respectively. Loyd, a senior, equally took rebounding honors. Lafayette Ron Godfrey potted 17 points to pace Hurricane point totals.

However, Kansas City, Mo., sophomore Lee Woodstock's considerable thunder with his hot-nutty-game shooting, including a 7-point spree within the first 10 minutes.

Miami's read just didn't begin with the Florida loss, however.

After electrocuting a five-game streak against home court basketball lines, Lafayette hit the boards, scoring 67-74 over UM on its Philadelphia hardwoods Saturday night.

The Quaker Stars, Explorers were in anything but a peace-making attitude. Lafayette made a halftime lead of one point hold up after the lead had switched chairs nine times.

MAMIA'S All-American guard Nick Hickox hung up 26 points and made Mike Sporty gather 12 The efforts were in vain as Lafayette's big Bill Raythens 25 Miami's only other two defeats, saw results of last night's clash in Jacksonville, have been to Santa Clara and Brigham Young—on the road.

"Really Throhrmorton, General Admission Seats Aren't That Bad. And My Arms Are Getting Tired!"

Miami is the leading athlete and top entrant in the 1960 Olympics will enroll at University of Miami February 1 and become eligible for varsity competition in the spring.

Peterson has so far failed, however.

"He will be classified as a sophomore at UM."

The decision to enroll at Miami was made last spring when Peterson was passing through from Los Angeles to the Olympics in Rome.

Looking for a place to work, Peterson joined the Cane track team. "After I'd been practicing for several days, a Sir Robert de Vere (UM track coach) spoke with me," Peterson, who speaks five languages, related in fluent English.

Ireland's leading athlete and top entrant in the 1960 Olympics will enroll at University of Miami February 1 and become eligible for varsity competition in the spring.

Roguish Pete Peterson, a 6-5, 200 pound hurdler from Roskijavek, Ireland, will enroll in the Television Department as an offshoot of his Hollywood film activities.

He was a co-lead in the recent Twentieth Century-Fox production, "Journey into the Unknown," in which he played an extra.

"We're enrolling the entire country," said Peterson, who is an associate track star from Roskijavek.

"Mr. Peterson, the "M" is a must."

"But Miami was a vast improvement over Los Angeles' smog, which I can't stand."

Peterson professed a scholarship which the handsome Scandinavia decided to null ever.

When word of Peterson's acceptance reached Devere this fall, the 58-year-old coach, "mighty low" on hurdlers, had his dreams fulfilled.
